

Will You Come to the Meadow

Refrain:

For then shall joy blossom bright, and love will overflow.
Beyond the fears of the past, our spirit will be home.

1. Will you come to the meadow in the morning, put your worries well to rest, there to listen, even see reflections of new vision beckoning you. Refrain

2. It is here new beginnings find conviction to let horizons wider be, as the dawn softly wakens freedom to be gift as gifted are we. Refrain

3. In the flow of the river as it moves on to where it's never been before, we shall hear harmonies we've longed for; life alive with wonder is born. Refrain

4. Will you share my life and drink deeply of the one whose love inspires faithfulness, compassion and forgiveness?
Will you choose to live from your heart? Refrain
